Dear Senator Feinstein:

I feel fortunate to be a union member of the IBEW. Our organization works cooperatively with our union employers to continuously improve the high standards of the electrical industry in America.

Because of collective bargaining, we are able to jointly provide our workers with journeyman and apprentice training, pension plans, health insurance, and a professional livable wage. It is simply not fair that our employers are working honestly with us, but many of their competitors break the law when their workers try to establish the same rights that we all enjoy. All employers must be held responsible to respect workers' rights and have greater penalties if they break the law.

I believe that all American workers deserve to freely exercise their right to bargain with their employers for fair wages, benefits, and working conditions. Our country will prosper once again, if working people have good paying jobs and self sustaining benefits.

Please support the Employee Free Choice Act, so all employees will TRULY have a fair choice of whether or not to form a union in their workplace. Millions of working families have voted for you and are counting on you now to help them.

Thank you very much,
